

Seniors Offered Insurance Plan

A plan of life insurance for seniors which will ultimately swell the endowment of Loyola College was recently brought to the attention of the Senior Class by the Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S.J., Dean of Loyola College. The plan was originated five years ago, during the presidency of the Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J.

Under the system each senior is asked to take out a life-insurance policy, valued at $1000, which would be payable to Loyola College upon the death of the graduate.

Provides Scholarships

The purpose of this long-range plan is to provide a scholarship endowment fund for as many students as possible. The plan assumes special significance inasmuch as the proposed Federal aid to educational institutions will assist state colleges only.

It was noted that the system is being received with a great amount of enthusiasm among the Senior Class.

Sixty Alumni Participate

Sixty graduates have already taken out policies in the past five years. Of these, seventeen were members of last year's graduating class.

In the 1948 graduating class at Yale University, 1250 students participated in a similar plan.

Glee Club Will Sing Tonight

Loyola's Glee Club will present its annual Spring Concert at the Alcazar this evening at 8:30 p.m.

Together with its conductor, Mr. Felice S. Iula, and the Baltimore and Ohio Men's Glee Club, the Loyola group will leave tomorrow morning for White Plains, New York, to participate in the Eastern Division of the Associated Male Choruses of America's mass concert.

Dance To Follow Concert

The Spring Concert's program will include The Battle Hymn of the Republic, I Got Shoes, Lift Up Thine Eyes, Dear Land of Home, A College Medley, and others.

Solos by Albert G. Fitzgerald, tenor, and John J. McWilliams, bass baritone, will highlight the concert. Also included will be several numbers by the newly formed Loyola College Barbershop Quartet — George M. Bauernschub, first tenor; Charles D. Bavis, second tenor; Bertram H. Morales, first bass; and Jean J. Gunning, second bass.

Following the concert, there will be a dance, with Bob Iula's orchestra supplying the music.

Associated Last September

In the White Plains mass concert, the Loyolans will join the Baltimore and Ohio group to sing Liberty and Sword of Ferrara.

The Loyola College Glee Club became affiliated with the Associated Male Choruses of America last September. This coming July it will work in concert with the Baltimore and Ohio club as host to the annual meeting of the association, which will be held in Baltimore.

The club has been practicing for these two concerts since the Christmas holidays.

After refreshments had been served, the visitors were directed to the Evergreen gymnasium where the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., delivered a welcoming address and inducted the newly elected officers of the Student Council.

Highlight of the afternoon's activities was a student forum conducted by the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society and the International Relations Club, under the direction of Dr. Harry W. Kirwin, Chairman of the Department of History.

The forum, a discussion on the merits of the North Atlantic Pact, was patterned along the lines of the United Nations Assembly with different students representing the countries of that organization. Color was added to the affair when the delegates from Russia haughtily stormed out of the assembly while the United States' representative was delivering his final rebuttal

Unpopular Decision In Hearst Oratory

by Donald E. Fay, Greyhound New York Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 10—An unpopular decision was rendered tonight as the Eastern Zone final of the Hearst Newspaper Tournament of Orators was held before a standing room crowd of over 1000 people.

The throng which jammed the Ritz Theatre heard Dorothy Midg-

Francis X. Gallagher

ley, of Albany State Teachers College, announced winner of the College section over Loyola's Francis X. Gallagher by a scant two points. Lack of applause was noticeable when the victor was announced, the audience obviously feeling that Gallagher's stirring tribute to Hamilton was tops, since the New York and Boston speakers were eliminated.

Actors Prepare New Production

Shubert Alley, an original musical by George Herman, will be staged by the Mask and Rapier Society of Loyola College in the middle of June. Seventy-one students have submitted their names for auditions.

The new production includes 22 songs and four skits. It is the story of the future stars of Broadway who live in and around the "great white way" in hopes of being cast. Each of the songs is an original creation by Herman. Mr. Felice Iula, Chairman of the Music Department, will aid in arranging the music.

Extensive preparations are being made for unusual scenic effects. The stage crew expressed the hope that the new play will even top Marelyn in new production technique.

Melodiers Play For Dance; Court Awards Favors

by David B. Maguire

Under clear, warm skies and brilliant stars, the third annual Queens Ball was presented last Friday night in the College gymnasium.

More than three hundred and fifty couples danced to the music of the Melodiers till eleven-thirty, when the new and old Presidents of the Student Council and the Athletic Association were introduced to the dancers by J. Jacques Gunning. Following this was the presentation of the Chairman of the dance, Fred Leimkuhler, the retiring Prefect of the Sodality.

A silver bowl was given to Jim Lacy by Mr. Fred Shallenberger on behalf of the Knights of Columbus, in recognition of Jim's outstanding achievements in the field of good sportsmanship.

After the introductions and the award came the promenade and the distribution of favors by the members of the Queens Court. Members of the Court were Miss Mary Carroll Donegan, Miss Bette Ellis, Miss Mary Kelly and Miss Peggy Pellens. The favors were gold Rosary cases.

The decorations consisted of blue and white streamers and multi-colored balloons attached to the ceiling, blue curtains hung on the west wall and the flower be-decked statue of the Madonna standing at the eastern end of the gym.

The warm weather allowed many couples to take advantage of the tables and chairs which were set up along the track outside of the hall.

ALUMNI DOINGS

By Edward A. Doehler, '30

Alumni Dance

Today is the date of the Annual Alumni Association Dance. At the time of going to press it was apparent from advance reservations that the affair was to be a memorable one in Alumni records. The thanks of the Association must go to Chairman Hugh Monaghan and his energetic committee who have worked hard to make the dance a success. This annual activity of the Association, inaugurated a few years ago, has grown in interest and is providing a pleasant introduction of each year's graduating class to the general membership of the Alumni.

Graduation

The Alumni Association will as usual take part in the graduation exercises of the College. Remember the date, June 5, the place, Evergreen, the time 4 p. m. Alumni in academic dress will take part in the procession. Other members of the Association are cordially invited to attend. While the deadline for cap-and-gown reservations has passed, it may be possible to secure gowns for some who have forgotten to mail the return postal. If you still wish to march in the procession, please call the Editor of Alumni Doings, Hopkins 4306, between 6 and 7 p. m.

Executive Committee Meeting May 27

The next meeting of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association will be held in the Faculty Building, Evergreen, Friday, May 27. On the agenda for the meeting will be a continuation of the proposed revised Constitution of the Association. At last month's meeting extensive revisions were presented by the Constitution Revision Committee and approved by the Executive Committee. It is the hope of the Committee to complete this matter at the May 27 meeting. According to the provisions of the present Constitution, amendments must be proposed by the Executive Committee, presented to the general membership and acted upon by them at a general meeting of the Association. The Constitution Revision Committee consists of Isaac S. George, Anselm Sodaro and Committee Chairman Lingard I. Whiteford.

Congratulations To Father Talbot

The Alumni Association wishes to congratulate Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., on the publication of his coming book, Saint Among the Hurons, chosen by the Catholic Book Club for its monthly selection.

Teachers Use Private Schedule To Set Dates For Tests, Exams

by George Herman

At exam time it is quite easy to spot that look of anxiety and fear that gleams on the faces of the student bodies. (Plural because each face has one body—a fine arrangement you must admit.)

This anxiety can be dispensed with, I believe, if you only know what is coming. In short, be prepared! To help put your best foot forward, I have gone to a great deal of trouble to analyze the situation, and I will now outline exactly what to expect at test time.

Tests Come In Bunches

First, remember that the teacher has a copy of your private schedule, and will naturally announce the test on the day you were supposed to fly to Chicago, or go shopping, or be initiated into the Phi Alpha Phi. If you do none of these things, then the best way to tell when a test will be announced, is to consult your school calendar. On the day that you already have three tests, you can expect two more at least. Comforting to know what's ahead, isn't it?

Now, once the test is announced, you must gather your notes. For this, you consult the boy up close to the desk in the front of the room, since he is the only one who can hear what the professor is mumbling half the time anyway. You bribe this gentleman with the certified copy of the University of Maryland budget which you have and then set to work.

You compare the notes with the book. They differ a bit. The notes say that "gas was discovered by Oomfot in 188 BC by boiling water." The text says that "gas was discovered by Trovinski (a Russian, naturally) in 987 AD by burping." So you are confronted with the question of using the answers in the book or those in the text. You can be certain of this: Whatever you pick will be wrong.

Notes are Backwards

You are equally unnerved by the fact that the notes apparently go backwards—starting on page 701 in the text, and ending up on page 50. This is known in the professor's personal handbook as "Torture Number 12."

Now all that remains is to take the test. See how easy it all is. Aren't you more at ease? Then there is only one method left...

I sell answer sheets cheap.

'49 Evergreen Ready In July

Except for the pages of spring sports, all copy for the 1949 Evergreen has been submitted to the printer and the engraver, according to Editor-in-Chief Donald E. Fay. Publication for the annual is scheduled for July 15.

Pictures by James K. Lightner, Photography Editor, covering the entire year, a 31-page senior section including individual pictures and writeups of each graduate, the division of the scholastic year into the seasons and the dedication to the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., are the highlights of the book.

Under Calvert Kenning, Business Manager and the Rev. J. A. d'In-villers, S. J., Moderator, a renewed patron drive for the seniors is in progress.

Those students not in school on July 15 will receive notification as to when they can report to receive their yearbooks.

Chess Club Elects Young, President

John Young was elected President of the Chess Club at elections held May 5. George Stevens is Vice-President, Robert Junas, Secretary, and George Clifton, Treasurer.

The club won third place in the Jesuit College Chess Tournament at Fordham University held from April 18-20. Georgetown and Boston College took first and second by a ½ point margin. James Bradley, Robert Bordley, Richard Ravenal, Edward Rowles and John Young made the trip.

The team of John Young, James Setilick and John O'Connor won the Intramural Chess league championship beating out threesome William MacFarland, Jerry Kessler and Joseph Kohlman.

55 Students Take Tests For Army Air Corps

Major B. M. Campbell and Capt. Edward M. Helm, of the Army Air Corps recruiting service, visited Loyola for three days last week to interview prospective applicants for careers in the Army Air Corps.

Of the 55 men who visited the officers in their Chemistry Library exam room, only six were tentatively accepted. Of the others, most were interested in information about the program for future reference. Some also applied to see how they would do in the Army tests.

Those qualifying in the initial tests will take further tests and physicals before being finally accepted.

Bridge Team Defeats Goucher Contingent

Scoring wins in nearly every rubber, the Bridge Team of Loyola defeated the Goucher girls from Sessymner Dormitory by a margin of over 8300 points in a match on April 29.

Playing with a four man squad composed of James Bowen, James Bradley, Robert Bordley and Robert Custer, the bridge men managed to win 10 out of 13 rubbers played.

According to James Bowen, President of the Club, the group will continue activity through the spring term playing any and all challenges.

Their topic will be "Resolved: That a System of Socialized Medicine Should be Established in the United States." Evelius and Gallagher will defend the affirmative, while Fay and Kourey will uphold the negative.

The Loyolans will be guests at a Kiwanis Club dinner at 6:00 p.m., just before the debate.

Sodalists Sponsor Lecture On Lourdes

The Senior Sodality of Loyola will sponsor a lecture by Dr. Edward Fenlon on Saturday, May 21, at 8:15 p.m. Slides and illustrations will show the miracles and wonders performed at Lourdes. A record dance held in the Gym, ending at 12:00 midnight, will follow the lecture.

At a recent meeting of the two sodalities, the question of merging the two groups was raised. These present voted to keep the Sodality separate, though they will work together on social functions.

Evergreen Scenes

"Do Good And Avoid Evil" Or Ye Editor's Swan Song

by Frank Gallagher

After two years of Evergreen Scenes, we're calling it quits. A new regime has taken over and as Tennyson, in one of his better moments commented, "The old order giveth way to the new." There are an enlightened few who are quite relieved to know that as far as THE GREYHOUND is concerned, corn will stay on the cob and cease wandering in either crushed or kernel form across the pages of a college newspaper.

There are others consisting of students, their parents and friends, (along with several faculty members) who have been faithful readers of a young journalist's attempts at humor. To that band of readers, I convey my thanks.

It would probably be appropriate to explain the real purpose of Evergreen Scenes. At one time, The Watchdog was the most widely read and controversial column in the paper. However, when the enlarged enrollment made it virtually impossible to pry into everyone's secret love life, the Watchdog became guilty of the canine sin of confining nasty comments to what the disgruntled like to call a "clique." And for a change, the disgruntled were correct. The clique prevailed and many who led more sordid and therefore much more interesting personal lives were overlooked in THE GREYHOUND.

It became necessary to put down this charge before THE GREYHOUND fell into general disfavor with the student body. Therefore it was decided hastily one issue that the Hound must join its ancestors in dog heaven or wherever gossip columns shake off their mortal coils.

To fill this gap, Evergreen Scenes were introduced. Perhaps it has not been so interesting as was the Watchdog but nevertheless, we tried to do a creditable job. Many times, we were asked to introduce students into the column, but we did not do so, with a few exceptions, because we feared that we would have that same fault of confining names to a few known to ourselves.

Lest I write so much that it becomes necessary to introduce footnotes, I bring the final act of Evergreen Scenes to a close with my words of wisdom to all: Do Good and Avoid Evil.

Editorials

A New Rex Rules

If I were a Cardinal, I would be able to hang my hat on the cathedral wall; if I were an elephant hunter, I would be able to carve an ivory trophy and place it on the mantle. But since I am but an editor, it becomes necessary that I sing my editorial swan song with the shrill voice of the pen.

The position of editor-in-chief of so widely-read a school organ as THE GREYHOUND is a vexing responsibility. For that reason, I ask that the students have a special consideration for the new editor. He is faced with the task of reporting the news at an institution whose activities are manifold and whose interests are diverse.

But more than that, the editor must place the proper emphasis on the happenings at Evergreen. Interpretation is important. One word can, at times, change the entire outlook of the news. Failure to stress some fact may result in distortion.

The editor must always take the middle road in a dispute of opinions. Common sense dictates that he should be neither too pro-faculty nor too pro-student. Care must be taken to see that the proper advance notices of events are given and that those same events are given follow-ups.

There are nearly thirty clubs and organizations, excluding athletics, which must be given proper coverage. The moderators and officers of all of them are careful to see that no injustice is done their organizations by THE GREYHOUND. Favoritism is a mortal sin and the penalties can be severe.

The people of Baltimore and many in the State of Maryland read THE GREYHOUND and seek to find in it an expression of Catholic student opinion. Therefore there can be no vulgarity, crudity or impropriety of any kind. That other schools, many supported by State funds, fill their columns with writing that reeks of intellectual and moral disintegration is no excuse for THE GREYHOUND.

The job of editor has been pleasant and interesting. I have met on the staff students who will be heard from in days to come. I have profited from their acquaintance as I have from that of the moderators. I feel sure that my associates feel as I do—that we have received two educations at Loyola, one in the lecture room, and the other in THE GREYHOUND Office. Both will prove to be priceless.

A new man has taken over. Give him your cooperation and try to appreciate his responsibilities. When he retires next year, make him feel as I do—that THE GREYHOUND has been an experience which will always be remembered with a sense of pleasure.

The Other Theatre

Most theatregoers are well aware of the magic of the theatre. Young playwrights are constantly reminded of the many sources of effects open to their art. Lights, costumes and props all add a special lustre to an otherwise natural and oftentimes trite scene.

The many men who work behind the scenes receive little attention for their work, which is the most tedious of the lot—and typical of them are these men at Loyola.

The first, and perhaps the best, production man in the College at this time is diminutive Danny Shehan, who currently was Production Manager for the Paint and Powder's "Counterfeit Lady." Danny has worked with professional stage hands and shows a fine imagination in the realm of lights and sets.

The most promising of production men is Ed Watson, a young man of 27 who knew about radio, broadcasting and the technical ends of show business before he even enrolled in the College. Ed can handle anything electrical with quiet efficiency.

Jim Bowen and graduate Bud Morenz were and are also topflight production men. Both have a resourcefulness which can turn a piece of scrap cardboard into a fifteen-foot replica of the Washington Monument. (It was done in "Marelyn.")

The men who weave programs and posters and publicity releases are also men without glory. Howie France is the most promising, and for advertising genius and publicity originality, the nod goes to Dick Cadigan. Joe Bartolomeo and Bob Barnard are steady and competent workers.

So, when you see future productions at Loyola, add an extra clap for the boys behind the scenes—way behind.

Coleman Visits N. Y. Meets Como, Jenkins

by Dick Coleman

Yours truly had the extreme pleasure of cutting three classes a couple of Fridays ago to accept an invitation to meet Mr. Gordon Jenkins and Perry Como in New York City. T'was a day well spent. We spent most of the morning with Gordon Jenkins and a gentleman named Mike Conner of Decca Records, just sitting around listening to quite a few new Decca discs to be released in the near future. One which caught our ear was a great arrangement by Louis Jordan of "It's Cold Outside." The vocal is capably cared for by Ella Fitz and Louie. Gordon Jenkins has a few recordings now riding the crest of top popularity. They are "I Don't See Me In Your Eyes Anymore" reversed by "Because You Love Me." Also by Jenkins is a smooth arrangement of "Again" which is really selling. In my estimation, the greatness of Jenkins' music lies primarily in his selection of tunes which are always in good taste and in keeping his arrangements simple but tricky.

Talks To Como

The afternoon was spent watching the Chesterfield Supper Club rehearsal in Studio 6-H at NBC. Perry Como with his jug of hot coffee and his Chesterfields handled the entire cast of the show with the ease of a great showman. Como mentioned that the hardest part of crooning is practising and developing something a little different in style. "I spent eleven years with bands and was so discouraged I was ready to go back to cutting hair. Then the president of Music Corporation of America heard me and put me on CBS. From then till now the Lord's been good to me."

Latest Records

Perry's latest best selling records on Victor are "Forever And Ever," "A, You're Adorable," and finally a brand new one from "South Pacific," "Some Enchanted Evening" and "Bali H'ai." Como differs from Lawrence, Laine, Sinatra and Damone because his popularity was not gained overnight.

As a closing remark we might mention that the bigger and greater the personality and popularity of the artists in this field or, for that matter, in any field, the nicer people they seem to be.

From the Library

On display in the Library are two Bibles of much interest to the bibliophile. The first great folio Bible was published at Liverpool, England in 1816 and is parent to the second published by Cummiskey in Philadelphia in 1825.

The Liverpool edition of Nuttall, Fisher and Dixon is a curiosity, for it was published thirteen years before Catholic emancipation when Catholics in England still suffered under the Penal Laws. The entire Catholic body numbered about 500,000 and possessed about 900 places of worship. It was this small Catholic group which made possible the publication of this folio Bible.

The second folio was published by Cummiskey at Philadelphia in 1825. According to Father Parsons in Catholic Americana this venture was a financial failure. Copies therefore are rare and valuable. Baltimore subscribed for twenty-three copies, one of which went to Charles Jenkins of the Jenkins family, benefactors of Loyola College.

The engravings in each are similar, but it is obvious that Cummiskey did not use the Liverpool plates for the text. The Cummiskey edition was approved by Bishop Conwell of Philadelphia who was one of the original subscribers.

Pacing The Pack

Greyhound Lacrosse Team Enjoying Good Season

by Gerry McCormick, Sports Editor

Although few people are aware of the fact, the Loyola lacrosse team this year is probably the best in the history of the school and it is not likely to be surpassed within the next few years.

The team's greatest asset is its wealth of experience. Almost all of the players have been playing together for at least two years, and now their teamplay is excellent.

Wittelsberger Highly Touted

An interesting point is that there are so few outstanding stars on the squad. If I attempted to give credit to everyone on the team who deserved it, the result would be a virtual team roster. However, I would like to mention one and that is Ray Wittelsberger.

Ray may make mistakes, but when he does, his error is soon overshadowed by the brilliance of his great defensive work. In addition to his tenacious guarding, Ray excels in clearing the ball, and the recent wave of talk boosting him for All-American honors may soon be justified.

Baseball Team In Slump

The Greyhounds are not doing too well on the diamond this year, and the situation is as mystifying to baseball followers as it is distressing to Coach Lefty Reitz.

On paper we have a fine team with a score of real ball players who have already made a name for themselves on the diamond. It doesn't seem possible that a team boasting such players as Tommy Lind, Jack Whalen, Mike Zedalis, Walt Sibiski, Bill Carroll, Jimmy Bullington, etc., could have such an unimposing record.

Some people feel that the pitching staff is to blame for the team's poor showing, but that is not entirely fair. It may be true that the staff does not have the depth necessary for such a heavy schedule, but few of the hurlers have hit their stride as yet and frequently they were the victims of poor support from their mates.

However, with such definite potentialities as the club has, they should start to click any day now.

Surge Of Tennis Enthusiasm

Interest in tennis seems to be booming on the campus with many new faces appearing on the courts and still more people watching the matches from the sidelines. The spectators are always generous with their vocal criticism, which, of course, is well received by the players.

The Intramural Tennis Doubles Tournament being conducted by Franny Mueller has met with plenty of enthusiasm from the competitors.

Andy McCormick is really taking things easy since the swimming team ended its schedule; he only does about 35 or 40 laps a day in the pool now. The popular swimmer takes his swimming seriously and should be a bulwark on next year's team.

Golf Team Triumphs Over Pair Of Rivals, 6-3, 8-1

Loyola's high-flying golf team secured a tighter grip on first place in the Mason-Dixon Conference by downing American University's linksmen on May 2 and then thumping Western Maryland on May 6.

American University's heretofore undefeated golf team fell victim to the Greyhounds by a score of 6 to 3. Playing over the rain-soaked Georgetown Prep course the Green and Grey were pressed to the limit as six of the nine points were not decided until the eighteenth green. Mel Beeler of Loyola was medalist with a 77. Dedrick of American U. defeated Loyola's No. 1 golfer, Jack Cronin, 1 up. Jack Simanski bested Gaipa 5 and 4, John Bailey halved his match, while Beeler downed Binswinger 4 and 2.

Loyola made it 8 wins out of 10 matches on May 6 by trouncing Western Maryland's hapless team by a score of 8 to 1. Jack Cronin annexed medalist honors as he carded a 75. The Terrors gained their lone point by halving two of their matches with the Greyhounds.

Tennis Squad To Meet Toughest Competition

by Gene Conroy

Playing five matches within six days, the Greyhound tennis squad will close out its season by meeting some of the toughest competition it has encountered this spring. After today's match with Washington College, the netmen will take on such potent clubs as Georgetown University, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, Catholic University and American University.

Today's contest with the Shoremen, to be played in Chestertown, does not loom as too big a hurdle for Loyola inasmuch as the Green and Grey thoroughly trounced the host team in their last outing by a 9 to 0 count. In this previous encounter, the Greyhound players, winning in an easy fashion, swept all of the matches, save one, in straight sets.

Tomorrow, St. Joe's net squad invades Evergreen seeking revenge for the 6 to 1 licking handed them by the Green and Grey one month ago. Although the score indicates an easy victory, the Greyhounds' first five men were extended to three sets before winning.

Georgetown Next

Traveling to Washington on Monday, the Loyolans will tackle the Hoyas of Georgetown. This all-Jesuit match has been the college's hardest fought encounter of the season for the past number of years and probably will run true to form this year.

On Tuesday, it will be the Greyhounds who are out for revenge, as the Catholic University Cardinals visit Baltimore with hopes of making it two straight wins over Loyola on the tennis courts. The Big Red team from Brookland, D. C., has handed the College netters their only defeat of the season. Likewise, they were the only ones to defeat the Greyhounds last year.

Loyola Scores In Mile Event At Penn Relays

Loyola College trackmen gained fourth place in the Mason-Dixon Mile Relay event at the fifty-fifth annual Penn Relays held last week at Franklin Field, Philadelphia. In capturing fourth place, the Greyhound squad assured itself of two points in the coming Mason-Dixon Tournament, since results of this relay will go toward each team's score.

The Loyola foursome, which consisted of Jim Kaufman, Tom Maskell, Ed Daugherty and anchor man Jack Brunk, was hindered by a crowded start and a bad baton pass on the final lap.

Washington College set a new record for the Mason-Dixon Conference, winning the event in 3 minutes, 25.2 seconds. Johns Hopkins University was second, while Catholic University edged Loyola for third place honors.

Over thirty thousand spectators watched Wayne University of Detroit dominate the action at the two day track outing. Wayne captured the one mile and half mile relays and took the broadjump championship. Maryland's Morgan State College showed surprising speed in the dashes and relays, but suffered disqualification for roughness after taking their mile relay heat.

The University of Pennsylvania, host to the annual classic, let most of the first place laurels fall to visitors, but did manage to place second in the two mile college relay which was won by Ohio State University.

Generals Fall By 11-6 Score; Kimmel Stars

by Bob Bourbon

Loyola's Greyhound Lacrosse Team, with some last quarter scoring assistance from attackman Frank Kimmel, buried Washington and Lee University, 11 to 6, at Evergreen, on May 4.

The game, fourth win of the season for the Green and Grey, saw the home team sweep to a 6 to 2 half-time margin, fall off in the third session, then come back strong in the final frame, to outpoint the "Little Generals."

Kimmel Stars For Winners

Kimmel, in addition to setting up numerous plays, also led the Loyola scoring with 3 goals, all of which came in the hectic final 15 minute session.

He was assisted by a pair of tallies each, from Jim Whelan and Eddie Miller, and single counters by Henry Walker, Ed Hughes, Bob DeLisle, and Don Gillotti.

Gillotti Thrills Crowd

One of the high spots of the first half action was a sizzling screen shot by Gillotti, midway in the second quarter. The speedy defenseman-turned-midfielder sank the longest pointer of the day, a thirty yard thrust from center.

Dick Ryer paced his Washington and Lee mates, with 2 markers, while Tongue, McDonald, Jones, and Porterfield, each chipped in with single tallies.

Visitors Open Scoring

The scoring opened with a goal by the visitors' Tommy Tongue, after about eight minutes of combat had ensued. Henry Walker then tied it up with an outside shot, and moments later Bob DeLisle duplicated the former's feat, making it 2 to 1 in Loyola's favor.

Loyola Takes Double Header

Behind the neat elbowing of pitchers Bill Carroll and Danny Donohue, Loyola's baseballers romped to two easy victories over Baltimore University, to the tune of 5 to 1, and 6 to 3, on Monday, May 8, at Evergreen.

In the first game, Carroll curved and sped past the Bees, fanning seven batsmen, and walking but two. Meanwhile, the Greyhounds pasted eight solid hits off of the deliveries of B. U.'s Phelps, scoring runs in the second, third and fourth innings. Both Tommy Lind and Jack Whelan chipped in with solid doubles.

Workhorse Danny Donohue, with but two days rest, allowed the visitors but three hits in the second tilt. The University of Baltimore's Chick Serio lasted only three and one-third innings, as the Greyhounds again wielded a mighty stick for nine hits, and six runs.

Dependable Tommy Lind sparked at bat, slugging a triple and a single. Catcher Mike Zedalis also contributed a booming triple to the cause.

Netmen Top Explorers

by Andy O'Donnell

With Loyola's top singles and doubles experts, Laroque and Lacy, hitting their stride, the Loyola tennis squad swamped a strong La Salle team at Philadelphia, on May 7, by a score of 9-0.

Captain Jerry Laroque swept by Chick Webb, beating him in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0. Jim Lacy maintained his string of successive victories by downing Dick McGuire with comparative ease, 6-0, 6-1.

Gene Nolan made short work of Joe Goster, in chalking up a 6-1, 6-0 triumph. Johnny Darrell had a little trouble against Joe Neine, and after a shaky first 8-6 set, came through with a 6-2 second.

Ed Ward and George Krug, playing number five and six positions, respectively, posted victories in their singles matches, Ward winning 6-1, 6-1, and Krug coming through with a 6-1, 6-2 triumph.

The combinations of Laroque and Lacy, Nolan and Darrell, and Linz and O'Donnell were too much for the Explorers as the three matches went to the Greyhounds without the home team losing a set.

Track Test To Sho'men

Loyola's track team absorbed one of its most lopsided setbacks in years, losing to Washington College, 102 to 24, at Evergreen, on Friday, May 6.

One consolation of the day for Coach Bill McElroy's squad was the job done by Walt Smyth in the 120 yard high hurdles. The lanky timber-topper went the distance in 16.2 seconds, tying the old record, to cop the Green and Grey's only first place of the meet.

The Shoremen were paced by Larry Brandenburg, who took firsts in the 440 yard dash, and the half-mile run, Bill Hubbard, with firsts in the 100 yard, and 220 yard dash, and Ed Cooke, with firsts in the broad jump and pole vault.

For the Greyhounds, Jack Brunk was high man on the point totem pole, with a total of 8 points.

"B" Squad Tennis

The "B" squad tennis team is moving along with a record of four wins against one loss. Player-coach Gus Gilbert has Andy O'Donnell and Hank Linz playing numbers one and two, backed up by Jack Gunning, Rip Roberts and others who give ample promise of future varsity activity.

Baseballers Split Even In Pair Of Away Diamond Contests

The Greyhound Baseball nine was edged out by Western Maryland, 21 to 20, in a hectic game, after having the day before handed Saint Joseph's a 6-5 setback.

In the Saint Joseph's game, Loyola was trailing 5-3 going into the eighth. Reds Schneider led the three run rally by beating out a bunt. Mel Wright doubled, sending Schneider to third, who then scored on Tom Lind's bingle. Mike Zedalis scored Wright with a single and Jack Whalen accounted for the third run, when he cracked a single to left field, scoring Lind.

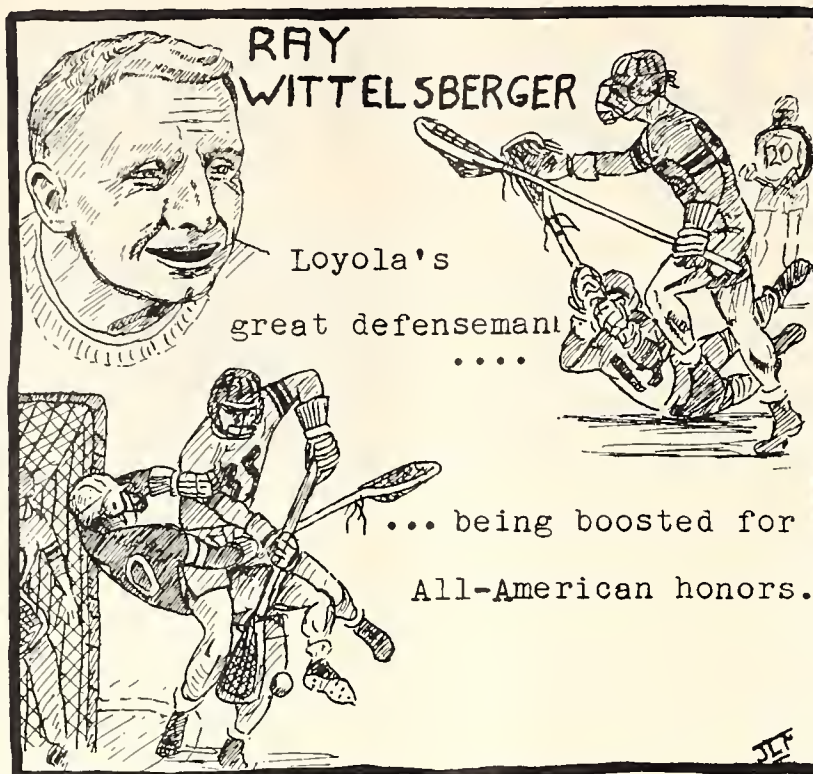

In the Westminster spectacle, nine pitchers gave up 31 free bases and 28 hits for 41 runs, while the fielders juggled 11 attempts.

Lefty Reitz's squad opened the game with a five run spurt and Western Maryland scored two in the bottom of the same inning. In the next frame the Green and Grey tallied four more times and three times each in the third and fourth, while Western Maryland picked up one counter in the second, nine in the third and six more in the fifth. Western Maryland now led 18-15 at the end of five innings.

The Terrors again scored in the sixth and seventh, making a total of 21 runs. Loyola made a gallant effort to save the game, but managed to get only five more runs, just one shy of tying the score.

Coach Reitz used five pitchers in an attempt to salvage the contest, while the Terrors made use of four.

Loyola Cops Diamond Test

Loyola journeyed to Emmitsburg for a M-D baseball game with Mt. St. Mary's on May 6, and returned home on the long end of a 7 to 2 score.

Danny Donohue, the Greyhound's winning righthander, scattered five singles, struck out nine, and issued one walk, in posting his third win of the season.

Loyola jumped to a two run lead in the first frame, added two more markers in the third and held a comfortable lead throughout the game.

Catcher Mike Zedalis and short-stop Tom Lind each chipped in with a triple as the Green and Grey made use of five hits and three Mountaineer errors.

Lacrosse . . .

McDonald then left the first period mark at 3 to 2 in favor of Loyola.

Second Quarter Spurt

The Greyhounds were particularly hot during the second stanza, with 3 goals, while holding their opponents scoreless.

The third quarter saw a decline in the Green and Grey's fortunes, as the Generals crept close, on the strength of two fast tallies by Ryer and Jones.

The stage was then set for Kimmel's fourth quarter outburst.

Tennis Team Bests U. of B.

The Baltimore University Bees were buzzed, 9 to 0, by the Loyola tennis squad in a match held April 20 on the losers' courts.

Led by Captain Jerry Laroque, all of the singles events were taken in straight sets. Johnny Darrell, opposing Jim Mason, was the only Loyola player to run into trouble, being extended to a 7-5 set, and then winning by a 6-4 margin.

Jerry Laroque and Jimmy Lacy won by default, as Joe Barnett, member of the Bees' No. 1 doubles team, failed to put in his appearance.

Tournaments Beckon Greyhound Golf Team

by John Bailey

Loyola's strong aggregation of golfers face a busy week of divot digging during which they compete in three major intercollegiate championships.

In two of these tests they will put championships on the line, the Mason-Dixon and Maryland Intercollegiate crowns, which they coped last year.

First Test May 14

The week of tournaments will be ushered in at Western Maryland when the Invitational event gets under way on May 14. Then in the middle of next week the Mason-Dixon Championship will be played over the rolling fairways of the Mount Pleasant Course.

The dark horse of this tournament is the Mount St. Mary's team, a hot and cold outfit. Should American U. send a smooth playing foursome up from the nation's capitol, this crowd could very well tote the trophy back to Washington.

Season's Golf Finale

The real test, of course, is the season's finale at the long-playing layout at Annapolis. Here the state intercollegiate fray is scheduled for the third Saturday in May. Strong contenders are Maryland, the host Middle team, and the Greyhounds of Loyola.

These three outfits should wage a close battle for the blue ribbon award that carries with it the pleasing name of "state champs."

The Green and Grey's hopes for these events will ride behind the drivers and putters of Jack Cronin, Mel Beeler, John Bailey, Bill Cronin, and Jack Simanski.

Greyhounds Drop Tests To Teachers And Pirates

It proved a costly week-end for the Greyhounds as they bowed to Towson State Teachers on Thursday, April 29, 4 to 0, and to Seton Hall on Saturday, April 30, by the tune of 8 to 5.

The lack of clutch hitting, which has seemed to plague the team all year, marked the contests. Halstead, pitcher for Towson, pitched a six hitter, but at the end of the game the box score showed that the Green and Grey had left 8 men stranded on base.

Charlie Sybert went to the hill to do the chores but came out on the short end of the score. A number of miscues have been cropping up in the past few games and they didn't bypass this game, as the Green and Grey were chalked for 6 errors.

Standing at home plate and hardly being able to see the fences outlining the field must have scared the Greyhounds in their tilt against Seton Hall. Both teams got a total of 8 hits but comparing the two, Loyola was behind.

Bill Carroll was on the mound but was not very effective as a number of walks were donated along with the hits. It was the same old story though, that could have made the difference between victory and defeat, as a goodly number of the Green and Grey were left stranded. It was a sloppy game as both teams committed 5 errors apiece.

Loyola Meets Jays, Sho'men

The Greyhounds will leave home for a double header on the diamond at Washington College today and a long shot lacrosse gamble at Johns Hopkins tomorrow.

The varsity nine tackles the Shoremen twice, having been rained out in their first engagement at Evergreen in mid-April. Coach Lefty Reitz looks to another tough assignment.

League Leaders

The seasoned Washington College aggregation is at present leading the Northern division of the Mason-Dixon loop. Most of the Shoremen have been playing together for two years and that means plenty in any sport.

Tomorrow Coach Bish Baker's surprisingly improving lacrosse squad attempts what no Loyola stick team has ever been able to do. They will try to unseat the National Lacrosse Champions, Johns Hopkins University.

All-Americans

The Blue Jays number in their ranks eight All-Americans of last year and several former high school All-Stars. All-American defensemen Gough, Bunting, Bishop, and Kalus, together with sophomore goalie Joe Sollers, give Hopkins what is probably the strongest close defense ever amassed by a college team.

At mid-field there's an All-American combination in Freddie Smith and Ace Adams with able assistance from Bobby Sandell. Then there's All-American Corky Shepard and Reds Wolman and myriads of very able reserves. It looks like another mechanical rabbit for the Greyhounds tomorrow.

Netmen Win Two Matches

Vince Colimore's tennis squad continued its slayer role in conference play by posting an easy 9-0 win over a visiting Western Maryland College net team, thereby increasing its number of league victories to eight in nine matches.

The Greyhounds handled the Terrors in one-two fashion, limiting each individual and doubles match to the minimum of two sets. Western Maryland's Phil Sack came closest to averting a shutout for his team before Jim Lacy turned him back 6-3 and 7-5.

Mount St. Mary's tennis team was again defeated by the Greyhound netmen this season, this time by a 7-2 margin. In posting this second win in the final round of the Mason-Dixon play, the once-beaten Loyola team indicated that it was bidding strongly for conference honors.

Freshman Johnny Darrell suffered the only setback in the single matches losing to the Mounts' Auwerda, 6-8, 6-0, and 2-6. Auwerda then teamed with Oduber to defeat Loyola's Ed Ward and T. McDermott, 6-1, and 6-4 to gain the hosts' second point of the afternoon.

As of these two wins, the Greyhounds own a seasonal record of thirteen wins against but one defeat.

Loyola Downs Explorers, 8-4

Playing heads-up ball, the Greyhounds pounded out an 8 to 4 victory over the La Salle Explorers of Philadelphia last Saturday afternoon on the losers' diamond.

Carl Eckels received the starting assignment from Coach Lefty Reitz and performed creditably until the ninth when he was relieved for a pinch-hitter. Bill Carroll took over from there and finished out the game.

Big First Inning

Scoring three runs in the first inning, the Green and Grey took the lead which they never relinquished.

Reds Schneider started the spree by walking and riding home on Tommy Lind's lusty triple to right field. Mike Zedalis singled, scoring Lind and moved to third on hits by Jack Whalen and Jim Bullington. George Franz sacrificed, sending Zedalis home with Loyola's third and final run of the frame.

Loyola Scores Again

The Greyhounds scored two more runs in the fifth and three in the ninth off the offerings of Steve Tracy, the La Salle hurler, as they avenged an earlier defeat to Coach Bill Haefner's squad.

GABARDINES

Of course, you'll find a lot of gabardines around, nowadays . . . but the real trick is in the quality of the fabric and tailoring, and in the smartness of the stylings. # "Human Destiny" Inspires Career Of Edward Megay

by Howard J. France

Edward N. Megay

Mr. Edward N. Megay's career as a teacher began as the result of reading Pierre Lecompte du Nouy's Human Destiny. His own good-fortune coupled with the inspiration received by du Nouy's work prompted him to lend his talents to the field of education.

Mr. Megay was born in Vienna, Austria on September 17, 1915. His father was a career officer in the Hungarian army; his mother a native of Austria.

At the age of ten he began studying Latin in the Humanistic School of the Schottengymnasium of Vienna; two years later he took up Greek.

After graduating from the Schottengymnasium in 1933, Mr. Megay entered the University of Vienna where he studied political science for two years having in mind a journalist future. While attending the University he contributed numerous articles to the Vienna newspapers on Austro-Hungarian culture relations.

In September of 1939 when war broke out, he and his American wife left Berlin and went to Budapest, Hungary, where he worked and studied for his Doctorate. In the Spring of 1944 Mr. Megay began his dissertation for a degree, but constant raids by Allied bombers forced the University of Budapest to close and his dream was never realized.

In September of 1948 he came to Evergreen at the invitation of Mr. Vincent Colimore, chairman of the Loyola language department, and began teaching his native tongue.
